Earl loved to build.

He built tables . . .

and chairs . . .

and bookshelves.

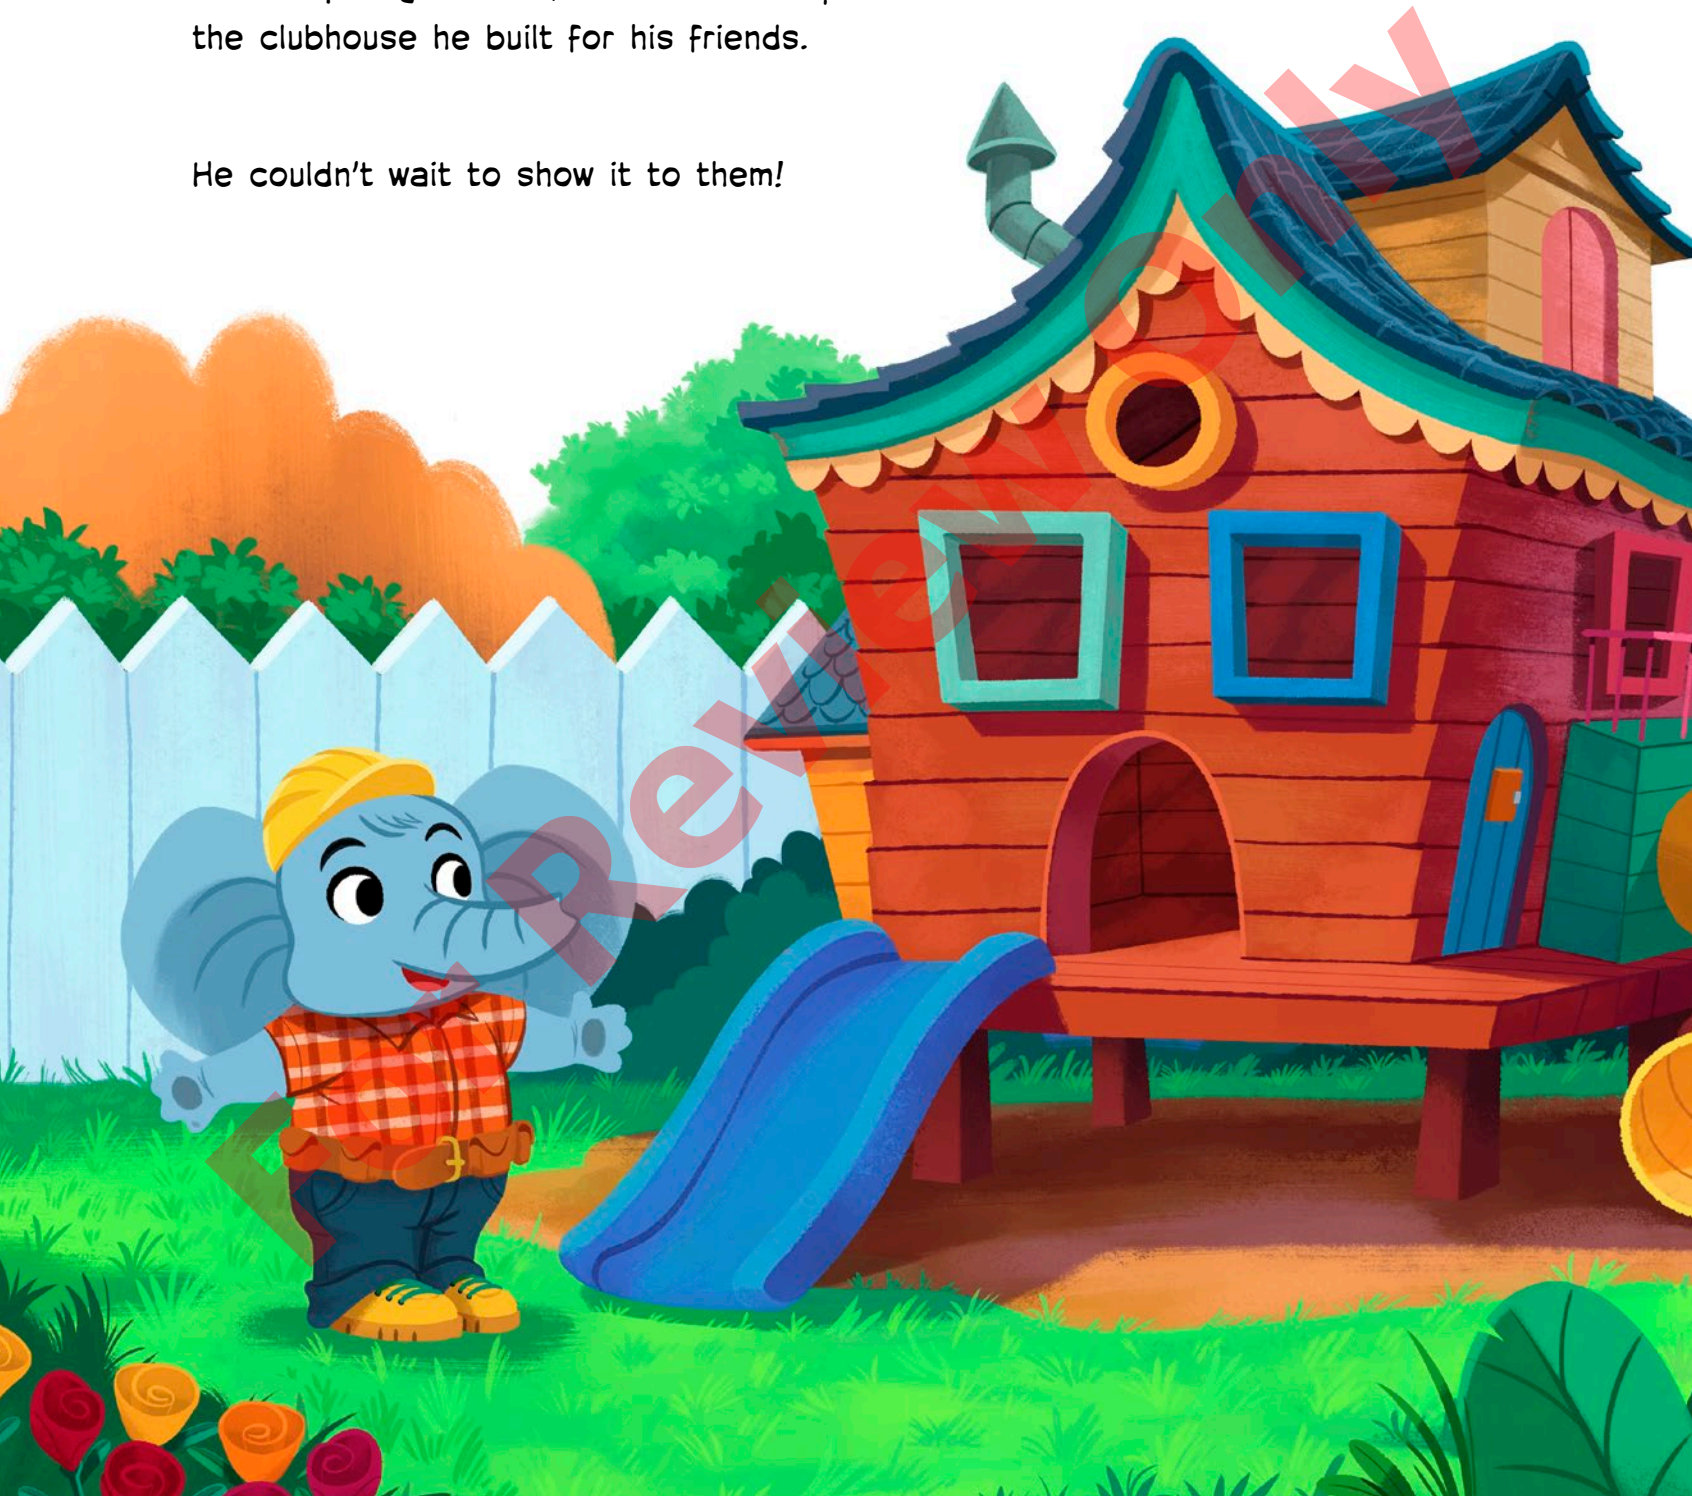

He even built a boat!

Of everything he built, Earl was most proud of the clubhouse he built for his friends.

He couldn't wait to show it to them!

But his friends were not impressed.

It's not very tall, is it?

The ground is a bit dry.

Everything seems awfully big.

You don't like it?
