I have one sharp, yellow beak.

It is snappy.

I have two round, brown eyes.
They can see so far.

A large, blue, fluffy creature with a yellow beak is shown in a close-up, side-profile view. The creature's head is the central focus, with its large, yellow, curved beak pointing downwards and to the left. Its eye is visible, and its feathers are a vibrant blue. The background consists of a rugged, mountainous landscape with rocky peaks and green vegetation under a clear sky. The lighting suggests a bright, sunny day.

I have two long, blue ears.
They can hear everything.
