Finding Food at Night

In the day, lots of animals look for food.

But some animals sleep in the day.
They look for food at night.

In the Forest

Owls are birds that hunt at night, in the forest.

They eat lizards and mice.

Owls have very big, round eyes.

They can spot tiny animals moving in the grass.

Tigers are big cats
that hunt for food at night,
in the forest.

They hide near rivers and look for animals that come to the water.

A hungry tiger will eat frogs,
birds and monkeys.
