Bear Cubs Learn to Fish

Story by Annette Smith
Illustrations by Ben Spiby

Bear Cubs Learn to Fish

Story by Annette Smith
Illustrations by Ben Spiby

For Review Only

For Review Only

One cold morning,

two little bear cubs woke up and looked outside their den.

They came out slowly and looked around.

Where was their mother?

For Review Only

For Review Only

The cubs were hungry.
They had to find their mother.

She was not in the snow by the rocks,
and she was not eating
the new green grass.

For Review Only

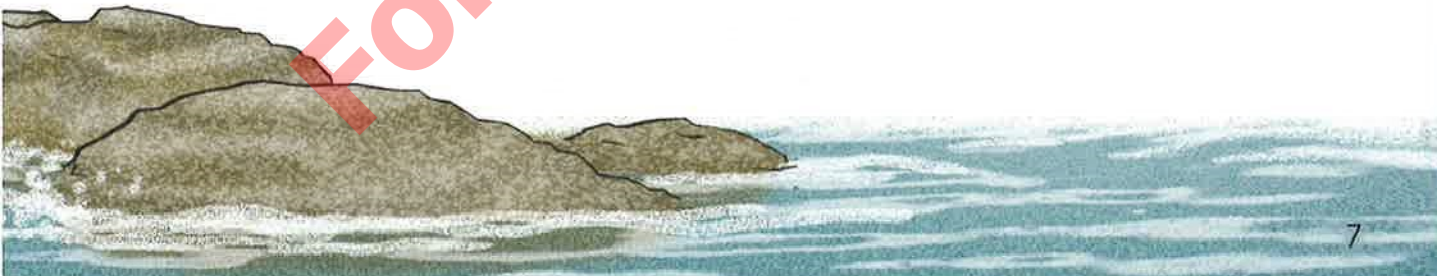

For Review Only

At last, one of the cubs saw their mother down in the river.
She had a big fish in her claws.

They ran down to her.

By now, the cubs were very hungry.
They wanted to eat the fish.

For Review Only