Lost in the City!

Jake and his sister, Beth,
were on holiday in the big city.
They were in the biggest city
they had ever seen.
There were a lot of people
on the streets, and the streets
went on forever!
The buildings were the tallest
Jake had ever seen.

Mum and Dad held Jake's hands,
so he didn't get lost
in the crowd of people.
Jake felt smaller than ever!

They were going to the city zoo.
A taxi honked at them,
but Dad smiled and shook his head.
The zoo was not far away,
and they were going to walk.

Jake couldn't wait to get there.
He was ever so excited to see the lions.
There was no zoo
in Jake's small town.
People came to the big city
just to see the zoo.

Mum and Dad led Beth and Jake across the city.

Jake looked up the street.

There was no sign of the zoo,
but Dad knew where he was going.
He had asked a man at their hotel.
The streets all looked the same to Jake!

Hadn't they passed that shop
with those people before?
