

Fair Play

Fair Play

Rupak Bhattacharya, M.B.A.

Good Sport

It is important to be a good sport.
That means you play fair with your friends.

It means you follow the rules and do not cheat.

It means you are kind when you play sports too.

Jump into Fiction

No "I" in Team

Nick waves his arms up and down.

But Sherry does not pass
the ball to Nick.

Sherry never passes the ball to Nick.

That makes Nick sad.

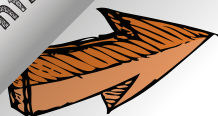

The game is almost over.
Nick waves his arms up
and down again.
Then, Sherry passes the ball to Nick.
Nick makes the game-winning shot!

Back to Nonfiction

Fair Play

Being a good sport is not about how well you play the game. It is about how you act toward others. It is about being the best person you can be.

121785

TCM Teacher Created
Materials

Lexile®: 470L

ISBN-13: 978-1-0876-0568-5

9 781087 605685