Gary is a grasshopper.
He lives in a big green forest.
He is also green, like the grass and the leaves.
When he sits on the grass, you can't see him!
Gary likes to sing.
Every day, he sits by a tree and plays his guitar.

What does Gary like to do?

How many insects can you see?

One day, an ant hears Gary sing. He goes and sits on a rock, next to him. "Hello, I'm Arty! I like your music. Your song is lovely!" "Thank you, Arty! My name is Gary. Would you like to sing with me?" Gary and Arty sing together.

20 Look and write the words. Then, find the secret message.

The secret message is: ___ ___ ___ _____!

This is a colour wheel. It shows the colours and how we make tints, tones and shades from them.

We call the pure colours hues.

We make a tint when we add white to a hue.

We make a tone when we add grey, or black and white, to a hue.

We make a shade when we add black to a hue.

21 Look and match.

22 Look, think and write. Which hues, tints, tones and shades can you see in the picture?

Make a 3D painting

You need:

- ☐ watercolour paper (1 large and 1 small sheet)
- ☐ watercolours
- ☐ a spray bottle filled with water
- ☐ masking tape
- ☐ 4 pipettes
- ☐ paper cups
- ☐ a plastic cutting board
- ☐ glue
- ☐ acrylic paint
- ☐ brushes
- ☐ a pencil
- ☐ scissors

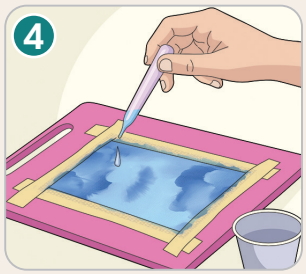

1. Tape the large sheet of watercolour paper onto the cutting board.

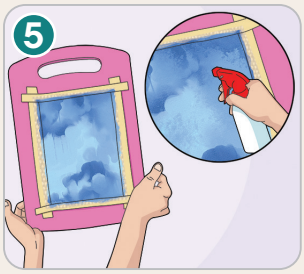

2. Pour water into the paper cups and make a hue, a tint, a tone and a shade for a watercolour you like.

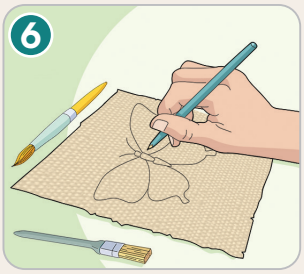

3. Dip the brush into a cup with just water and brush it all over to wet the paper.

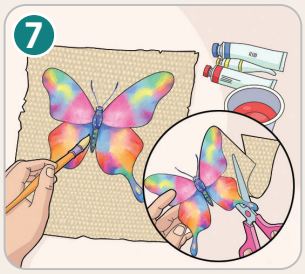

4. With the pipettes, drop some of the colour/tint/tone/shade onto the wet paper.

5. Move the board around so the drops spread. Spray some water on to make the watercolours blend more. Let it dry when you're happy with it.

6. Use the pencil to draw the outline of a butterfly or other insect you like.

7. Colour in the butterfly with acrylic paint; use any hues you like. When it's dry, cut it out.

8. Gently bend the wings and glue the body onto the centre of the large sheet. Your 3D painting is now ready!
