
Footprints on the Moon
Poems About Space
Selected by Mark Carthew
Illustrated by Helen Poole

Contents

Space Counting Rhyme 4
It's Hard to Count Stars 6
Brief Encounter 8
Fly Me to the Moon 9
Footprints on the Moon 10
Moon, Moon 12
Mars 13
When I Am an Astronaut 14
Zoom, Zoom, Zoom 16
Meteors 18
The Alien 20
Blast Off 22
Space Riddle 23
Solar System Show 24
Star Light, Star Bright 26
Sources and Acknowledgments 28

For Review Only

Space Counting Rhyme

10 flying saucers, 10 flashing lights
9 glowing trails, 9 meteorites
8 silver spaceships trying hard to find
7 lost aliens left behind
6 burning comets blazing fire
5 red rockets blasting higher
4 satellites, 4 radar dishes
3 stars shooting, means 3 wishes
2 bright lights – the moon and sun
1 little me to shine upon

Paul Cookson

For Review Only

For Review Only

It's Hard to Count Stars

One

Two

Three

Four

Have I counted you before?

Four

Five

Six

Ten

Perhaps I should begin again.

Philip Burton

For Review Only

For Review Only

Brief Encounter

Zooming on and on
Through space,
I want to see
a Martian's face,
And when I've said,
"Hallo", well then
I want to zoom
Back home again.

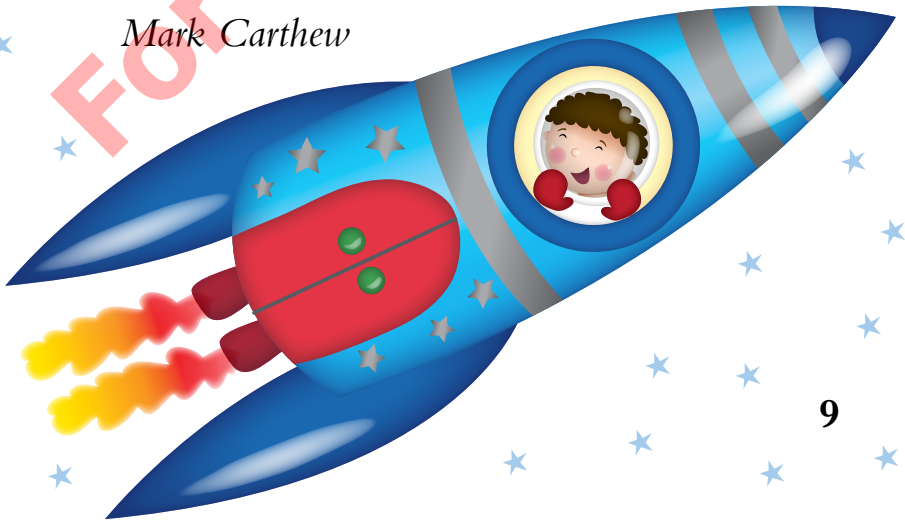

Clive Webster

For Review Only

Fly Me to the Moon

I've built a big blue rocket ship
with silver stars and stripes.
It flies me to the yellow moon
and through the dark black night.
10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, 0
Blast off!

Mark Carthew

For Review Only