RACE TO THE MOON

Written by Bill Condon
Illustrated by Barry Gott

Contents

Chapter One
The Amazing Idea 3

Chapter Two
Assembling the Ship. 9

Chapter Three
Preparing for Liftoff. 19

For Review Only

Chapter One

THE AMAZING IDEA

Rain, rain, rain—it seems like every day of vacation has been wet, and more rain is on the way!

For Review Only

We've played all our video games, watched movies, and surfed online a million times, and now our eyeballs are about to fall out. If we don't find something new and exciting to do soon, we'll be so bored our brains will melt!

Timothy jumps to his feet and says, "I've got an amazing idea. Let's build a rocket ship!"

It's a totally one-hundred-percent awesome idea.

"We can fly to the mall!" Angelina suggests.

"We have to think bigger. Let's fly to an amusement park!" says Madison.

"In a rocket? We've got to think bigger than that!" Timothy grins and continues, "Let's race to the moon!"

For Review Only

For Review Only

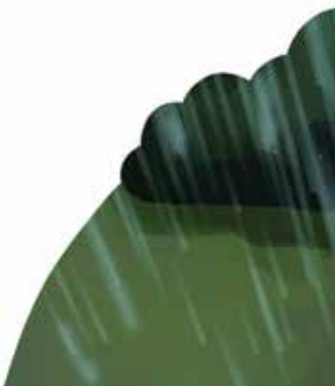

I look out the window. I can't see the moon, but I know it's up there somewhere—somewhere really far away from here.

Looking back at my friends, I ask, "It's raining pretty hard. Do you guys think it's too wet to fly a rocket today?"

Timothy shakes his head. "No way! It'll take hours to build a rocket, and by then the rain will be gone."

I can't argue with that, so there is only one thing to say. "Okay, let's do it!"

For Review Only

For Review Only