The Emperor's New Clothes

retold by Kathryn L. O'Dell • illustrated by Kathleen Kuchera

Benchmark Education

For teachers' inspection ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

There was once an emperor. This emperor did not care about his people. He cared only about his clothes.

For teachers' inspection ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

One day the emperor wanted new clothes. He said to his helpers, "Get me my tailors. I must have new clothes!"

For teachers' inspection ONLY

The tailors came to see the emperor. One tailor said, "I made new clothes with feathers."

Another tailor said, "I made new clothes with silk." But the emperor did not like the clothes.

For teachers' inspection ONLY

The last tailor said, "Look in the box. Look at the new clothes I made! Only wise people can see my clothes. Do you like them?"

For teachers' inspection ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

What happened in this fairy tale?

For teachers' inspection ONLY

Analyze Story Elements

What is the problem at the beginning of the story?