"Dan is in hospital,"

"We can send him
emails to read," said Donald.

"We can make a song
and send it to his phone," said Zoe.

"Good idea," said Miss Moss.
"Dan will like to read your words and hear your song."

"I have made up some words," said Zoe.
She read the words.
"Hip-hop, hip-hop-hop!
Do the get-well hop-bop!"

Jack played guitar
and sang the words.
Aimee played a drum
and sang the words, too.
