Comprehension

- Make predictions
- Make connections

1. Read the title of the book aloud.
Ask: What do you think this book will be about?
2. Talk about the pictures on each page.
3. Ask children to point to one or two words they know.
4. Read the first page to children.
Encourage them to read along.
5. Ask children to read the rest of the book aloud.
6. Support children if they have trouble reading a word by using some of these prompts:
 - What can you do to help yourself?
 - Say the word slowly. What sounds can you hear?
 - Look at the picture. What is happening?
 - Does that word sound right? Try reading the word again.
7. Reread the book aloud together and talk about it.
8. Build language and comprehension by using the ideas at the back of the book.

A-Hunting We Will Go

A-hunting we will go, a-hunting we will go.
Hi-ho, the derry-o, a-hunting we will go.
We'll catch a fox and put him in a box,
And then we'll let him go.

adapted by Jeffrey B. Fuerst • illustrated by Bill Greenhead

Hunters are in the woods.
They are singing a song.

“A-hunting we will go,
a-hunting we will go.”

For Review Only

“I hear hunters coming through the woods. We better run away,” says Rabbit.

“I can run fast!” says Fox.

For Review Only

Fox runs away. "I like to run through the woods,"
says Fox.
