What Is Easter?

A vibrant stained glass illustration depicting the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. Jesus, with a halo and wearing a white robe over a red garment, is shown rising from the tomb, his arms outstretched. He is surrounded by swirling white and blue clouds. Below him, several figures, including men and women with halos, are shown in various states of awe and devotion, looking up at him. The background is a deep blue, and the entire scene is framed by ornate golden arches and decorative elements.
