Chapter 1

Freddie was mad about dinosaurs. He had dinosaur pyjamas, dinosaur wallpaper, and a dinosaur lunch bag. Freddie even cut his food into dinosaur shapes.

Freddie's class were going on a trip to the museum. They had a huge dinosaur exhibit there. Freddie couldn't wait.

"Wow!" Freddie said when they got inside.

There was a giant skeleton as tall as the roof. Freddie didn't know what to look at first.

As Freddie looked around, his bag knocked an egg off the display.

The egg landed with a crash and rolled away. Freddie chased after it. When he picked it up, the egg had a huge crack in it.

"Oh no!" said Freddie. He looked around, but everyone had gone.

Freddie put the egg in his lunch bag. He would tell someone about it later, he thought. Then he ran to catch up with his class.

But in all the excitement, Freddie forgot about the egg.

On the bus on the way home, Freddie heard TAP! TAP! TAP! It was coming from his lunch bag.

Freddie unzipped it and looked inside. There was the dinosaur egg.

TAP! TAP! TAP!

As Freddie watched, the egg cracked more and more. Little bits of shell started breaking off. Something was alive inside.

The egg was hatching!

Chapter 2

Finally a big piece of shell broke off.

Freddie could see a tiny dinosaur inside. It had a big head, a long tail, and little wings on its back. Its blue shiny skin sparkled in the light.

It didn't look like any of the dinosaurs Freddie had seen in his books.
