It was Friday afternoon. All week, Finn's class had been learning about holograms. "Here is your homework!" said his robot teacher. "I want you to make a hologram."

Finn grinned happily.
He couldn't wait to start!

Everyone grabbed their hologram homework kits. Then they got on the space shuttle to go home.

“This is the best homework we’ve ever had!” said Finn. Everyone agreed.

Soon, Finn got back home to his space pod.

His cat, Dodger, was waiting for him.

“I’m going to make the best hologram ever!”

Finn told Dodger. “Do you want to help?”

Together, they unpacked the hologram kit.
