

Potluck Problem

Level
1

Joel Finnestad

I'm Chris. I am from Taiwan. I like trying new food and sharing.
Do you like to share?

A B C

Potluck
tomorrow

We like our teacher.
We are having a potluck
party tomorrow.
We want to share food!

THINK

What are your favorite foods? What foods don't you like?

I am Kim.
I am from Korea.
I want to share
kimchi.

COUNT

Count the people
in Kim's family.

I am Naya.
I am from India.
I want to share roti.

GUESS

Which food in the picture is roti?

Art

Math

Everyone Shares!

Potlucks, or "luck of the pot," started in 16th-century England. The food in the pot was always a surprise. Today, a potluck is a party. Everyone shares. It's like a picnic!

1. What do the children want to bring to the picnic?
What do they not like? Listen and write O or X.

Pedro

Kim

Naya

Magic Mud

You will need:

corn starch (about 100 g)

water (about 50 ml)

a bowl

1. Add some corn starch to the bowl.

