

Humphrey and the Humans

Level
2

Andre Louw

Hey, I'm Humphrey! This place is getting colder. We are ready to move. Do you want to come with us?

In the cold, blue, winter sea
there is a whale as big as a bus.
His name is Humphrey. And he can talk like us!

THINK

Do you know any other things that are as big as buses?

“Winter is here, my friends,” Humphrey says to the other whales.

“We must go to nice warm waters.
We don’t want ice on our tails!”

SPEAK

What are the whales on the left holding? How can they help them?

So, they swim to a warmer place.
There are islands and beaches,
and the sun is hot and fat.
The humans there wear tank tops,
shorts, and a hat.

LOOK

What are these three people doing
on the beach?

Humpbacks & Their Holidays

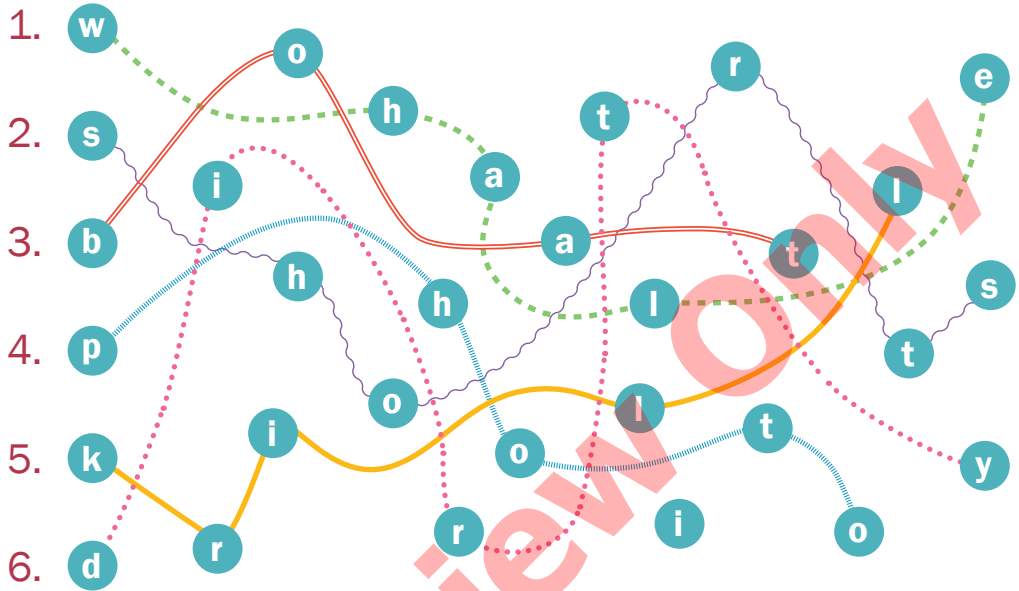

Humpback whales (like Humphrey) have black backs and white bellies. Some travel over 20,000 km every year to reach warmer waters.

They can be as heavy as 35,000 kg and have lungs as big as cars. No wonder they can hold their breath for 40 minutes!

1. Find the words and write them under the correct pictures.
