Moving House

By Alan Trussell-Cullen

Illustrated by Chantal Stewart

Title	Moving House
Levels	12–14/15
Running words	215

For Review Only

You can also read Flying Colours books online.

Go to www.flying-colours.com.au

Moving House

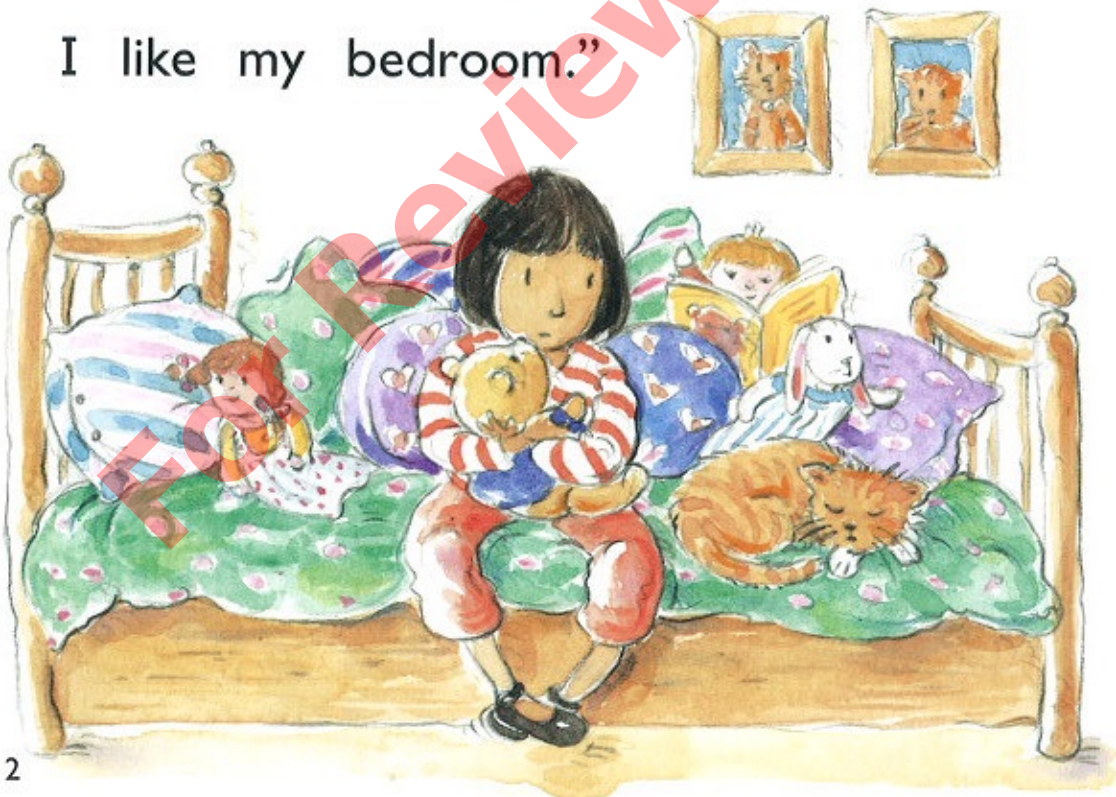

By Alan Trussell-Cullen
Illustrated by Chantal Stewart

For Preview Only

Lisa's family was moving to a new house.

"I don't want to move to a new house," said Lisa. "I like this house. I like my bedroom."

For Review Only

Lisa cried as she took down her pictures.

She cried as she put her books and toys in a big box.

For Review Only

The men carried out Lisa's bed and put it in the truck.

The men carried out the box with her books and toys in it and put it in the truck.

For Preview Only

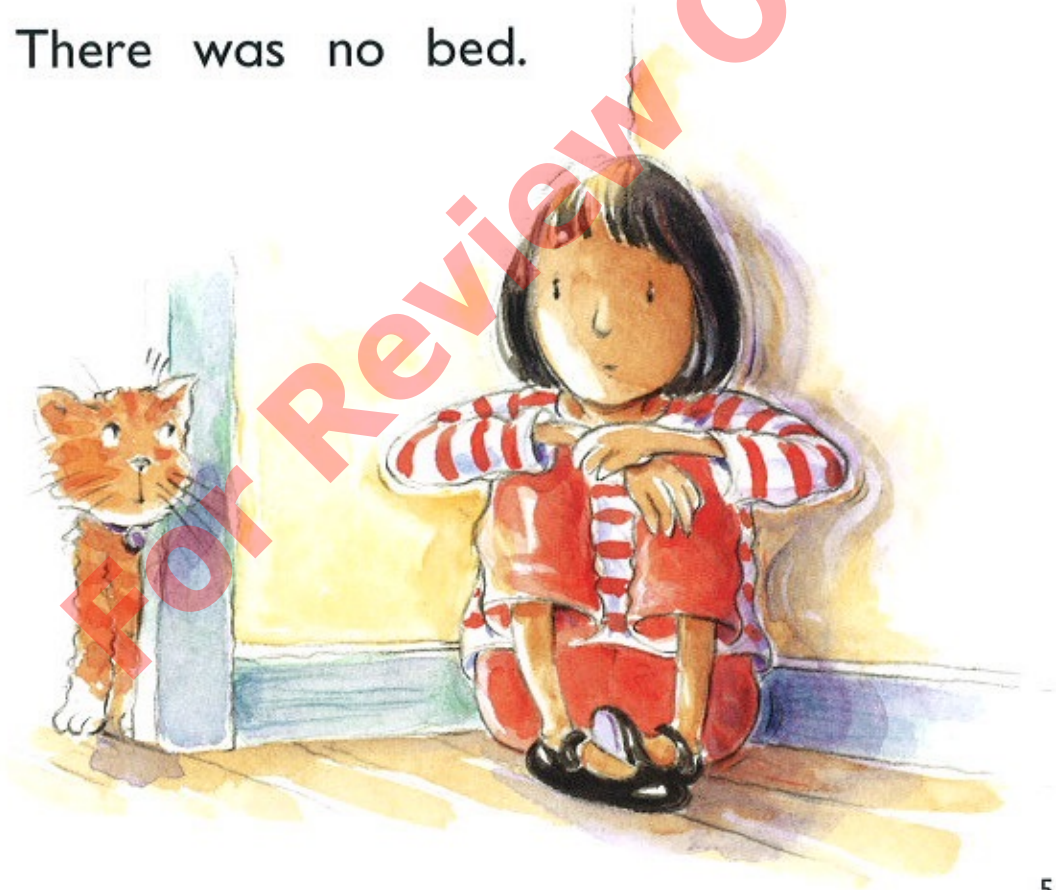

Lisa sat on the floor.

There were no pictures.

There were no books.

There were no toys.

There was no bed.

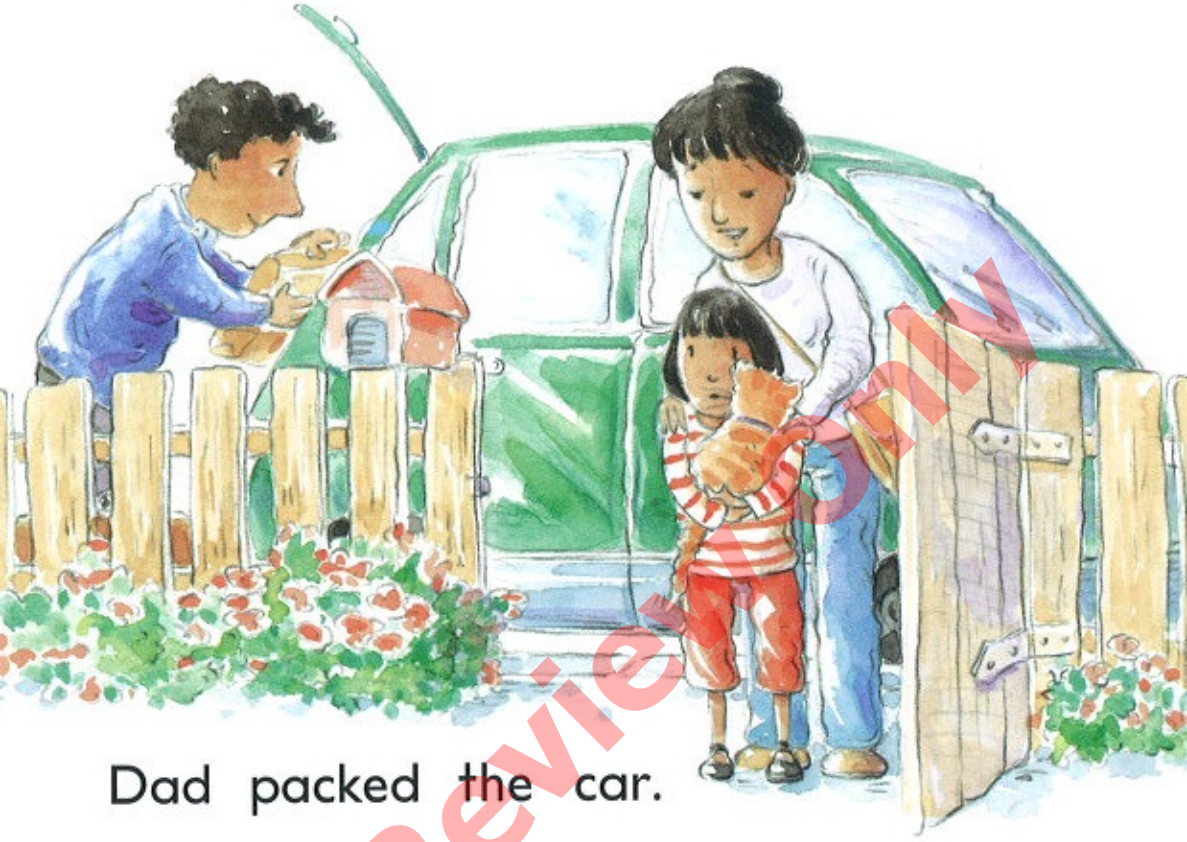

For Review Only

"I don't want to move to a new house!" Lisa cried.

Lisa's cat climbed onto her knee. "Poor Socks," said Lisa. "We don't want to move to a new house, do we?"

For Review Only

Dad packed the car.

"It's time to go," he said.

"The new house will be nice," said Mum.

"No, it won't," said Lisa.

For Review Only