"Do you want to come to the park with us and feed the ducks?" said Molly.

"I'm scared of ducks," said Oscar.

"You don't need to be scared of ducks," laughed Barney.
"We will look after you."

At the park, Barney and Molly forgot Oscar was scared of ducks.
They went off to climb a tree.

Oscar was on the bank by the water.

Oscar saw the ducks coming.
He saw their wings flapping.
He saw their shiny little eyes
and their big beaks.

The ducks came out of the water.

Oscar climbed on the wall.
Then the ducks climbed on the wall too.

Oscar saw their shiny little eyes and their big beaks coming after him!
