Harry said to Nat,
"Where is your new football, Nat?"

"Here it is," said Nat.
"We can play with it
at school today."

Harry looked at Nat's football.

"It is a good football," said Harry.
"We will play with it
at school today.
You can kick your new football
into the goal."

The boys ran into school.

"Oh no!" said Nat.
"My football is in the car!
Mum is going home with it."
