Learn About → Life Science → Plants

How Do Plants Grow?

Written by Margaret MacDonald

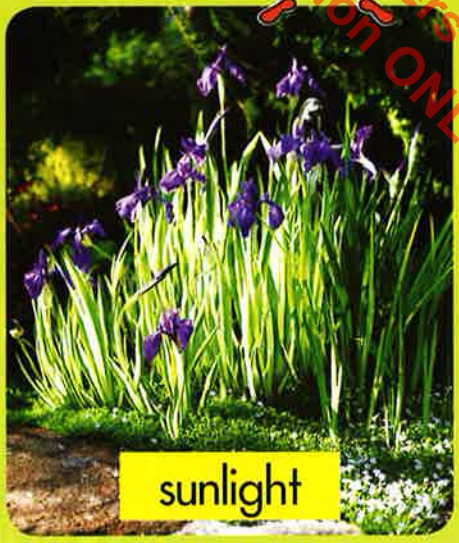

Learn-Abouts

Picture Dictionary

For teachers' instruction ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

Look at the gardens
near where you live.
Look at all the plants
that grow in a garden.

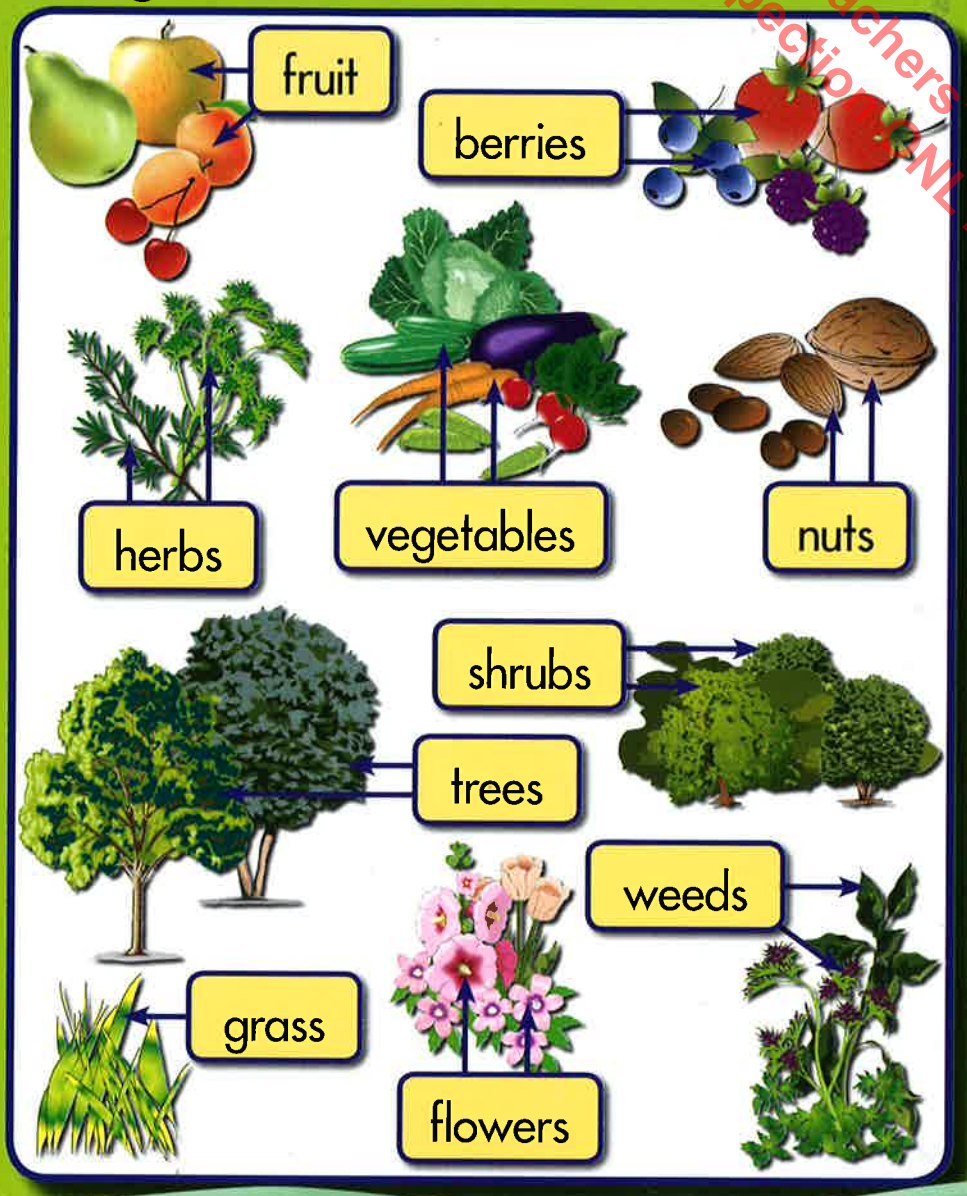

For teachers' inspection ONLY

People grow many kinds of plants in a garden.
People grow plants to eat.
Vegetables and herbs
are plants that people eat.
People grow plants
because they look good.
Grass and flowers
bring colour to a garden.

Weeds grow in gardens, too.
People take out the weeds.

Things That Grow in a Garden

For teachers' inspection ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

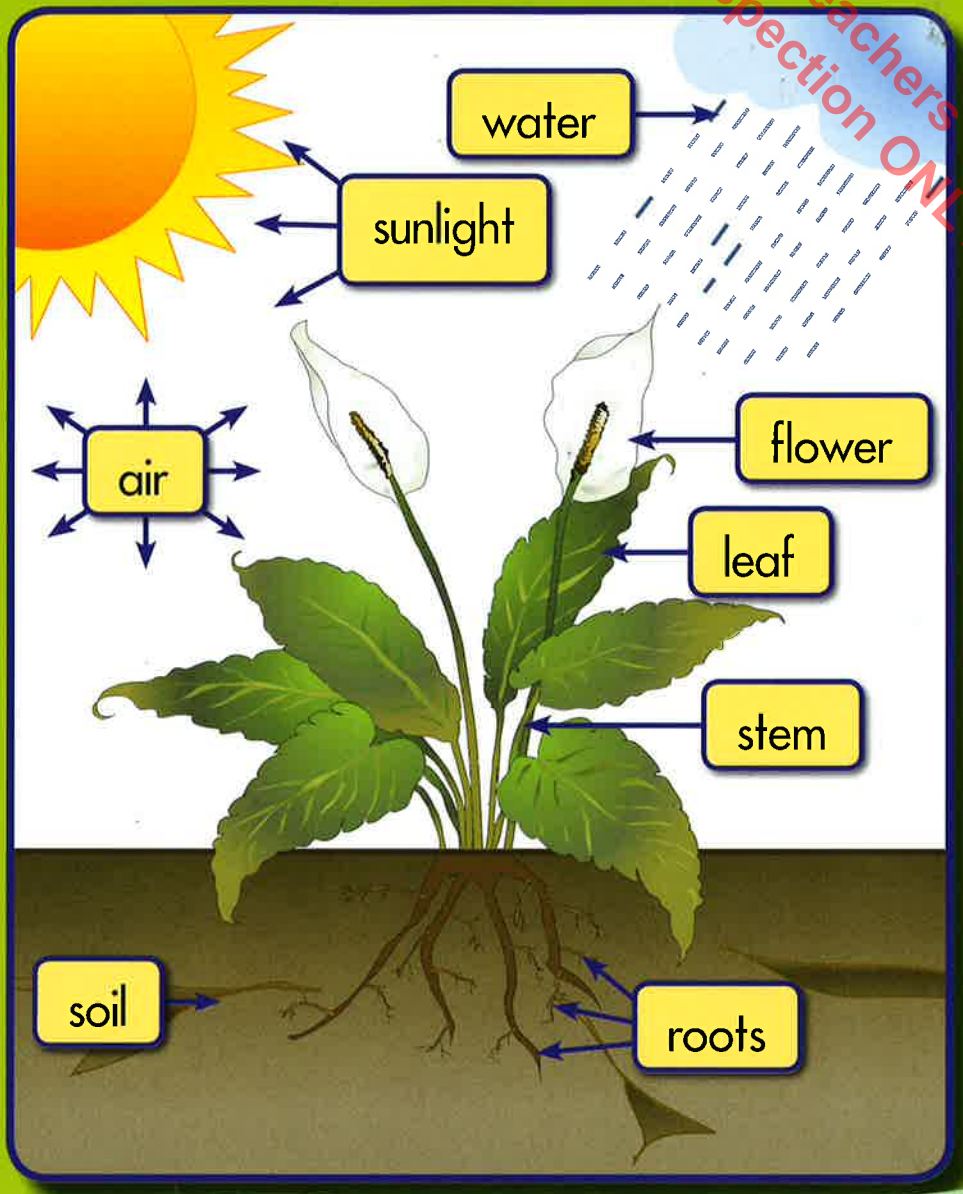

How do plants grow in a garden?
Most garden plants
need four things to grow.

Plants need –

- Air,
- Sunlight,
- Water,
- Soil.

How Do Plants Grow?

For teachers' inspection ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

Air

Plants need air to grow.
They get the air they need through little holes
in their leaves.
These holes are called pores.
If you put a plant
in a place with no air
it will die.