For teachers' inspection ONLY

After school,

Scott went home with James.

"I'm hungry," said James.

"Let's eat some peas."

"Peas?" said Scott.

"I don't like peas," said Scott.
"I like cakes."

"You will like my peas," said James. "Come with me."

Scott went with James,
but he was not very happy.

The boys went into the garden.

Scott looked around.

"Where are the peas?" he said.

"They are over here," said James.

"But peas don't look like that!"

said Scott.
