The Chocolate Cake

PM+

Story by Dawn McMillan

Illustrations by Meredith Thomas

Sunday was a cold, wet day.
Tess and Nathan looked out of the window.
The rain bounced off the glass.

"It's still raining!" said Tess.
"It rained all day yesterday,
and we couldn't go camping."

"What are we going to do today?"
asked Nathan.
"We can't go outside.
The backyard is covered in water."

Tess thought hard.
"Let's ask Mum
if we can make a cake!" she said.

For Review Only

For Review Only

"What a good idea," said Mum,
when they asked her.
"That will keep you busy!
You can make a chocolate cake.
There's a cake mix in the cupboard.
I'll turn the oven on for you."

For Review Only

"I've found the cake mix," said Tess.
"This will be easy to make," she said,
as she read the words on the box.
"We just need to use two eggs,
some butter and a cup of water."

"Great!" said Nathan.
"Let's get started."

For Preview Only

Nathan put the cake mix and the water into the bowl.
Next, Tess broke the eggs carefully, and slipped them in.
Nathan held the bowl, and began to mix everything together.

"Wait until I put the butter in!" said Tess.

For Review Only