Yasmin liked swimming
with her friends from school.
At the end of every lesson,
Miss Lee would let the children
play games in the water.

Sometimes the best swimmers
in the class
had a race across the pool.
Yasmin's friend Sarah could swim fast.
She often won the race.

Yasmin wanted to go
in the race, too.
But she could only swim
halfway across the pool.

Then she had to stop
and put her feet down,
because that was the only way
she could get some air.

Miss Lee showed the children how to turn their heads to the side and take in air.
