

Tricking the Tiger

Retold by Beverley Randell Illustrated by Yen Lau

For teachers' inspection ONLY

For teachers' inspection ONLY

The foxes would eat what they wanted.
Then they would carry
the rest of the food
home to their cubs.

For teachers' inspection ONLY

Mr Fox always told Mrs Fox
how clever he had been
to find so much food.
He talked and talked and talked
all the way home.
He liked the sound of his own voice.

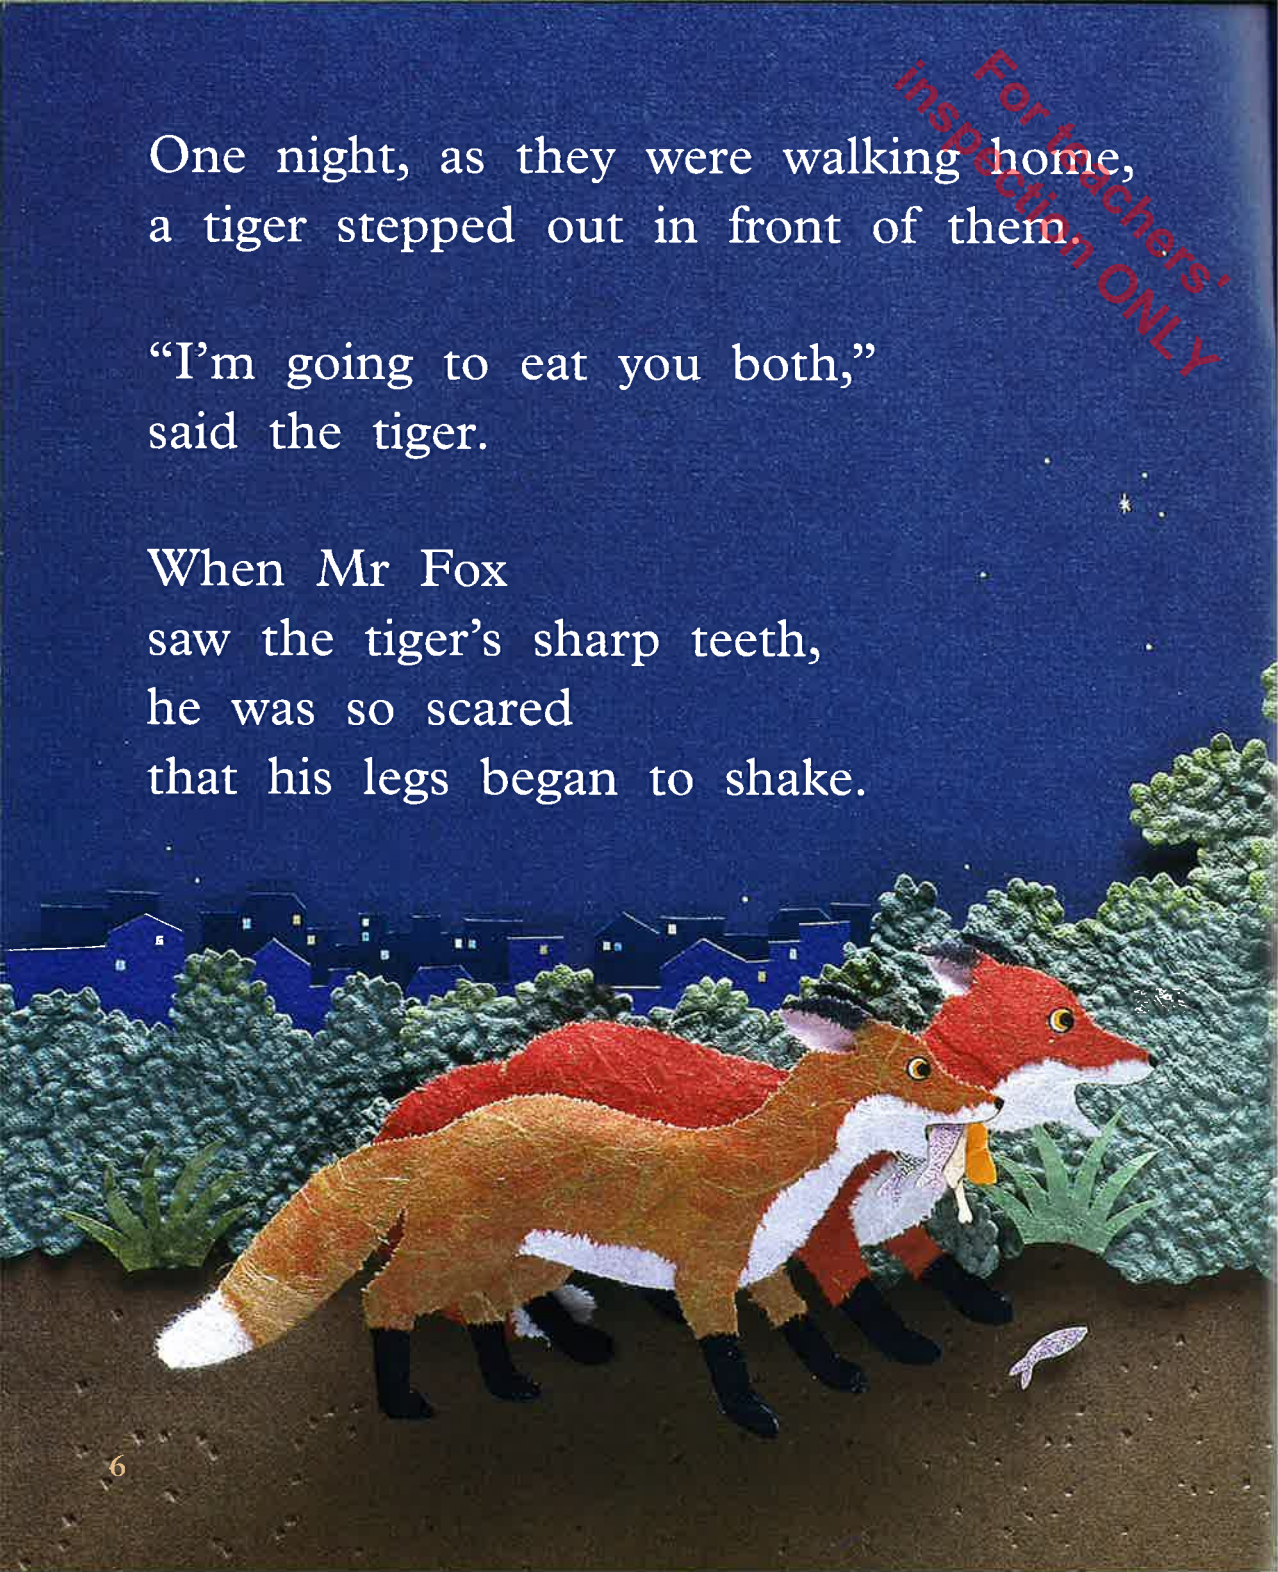

For teachers' inspection ONLY

One night, as they were walking home,
a tiger stepped out in front of them.

"I'm going to eat you both,"
said the tiger.

When Mr Fox
saw the tiger's sharp teeth,
he was so scared
that his legs began to shake.

For teachers' inspection ONLY