Kel was going to stay with his father for two weeks.

His father lived in another city now, and Kel was going there on a big plane.

Kel's mother took him to the airport.

"Have a great time," called Mum,
as Kel walked through the doorway
towards Gate 12.

Kel felt a little bit scared.
He had been to the airport
lots of times to look at the planes,
but he had never been
on a plane before.

One of the cabin crew
helped Kel with his ticket.
Her name was Jackie.
When they got on the plane
she showed him where to sit.

Kel did up his seat belt.

"We will be ready to go in about five minutes," said Jackie.
