

The School Fair

Story by Lorraine Marwood
Illustrations by Rachel Tonkin

For teachers' inspection ONLY

Luke and his friend Andrew had been waiting for this day for a long time.
Today they were going to the school fair.
They had been saving their pocket money.

For teachers' inspection ONLY

"I might find another racing car for my set," said Luke.

"I hope I can find some more books about wild animals," said Andrew.

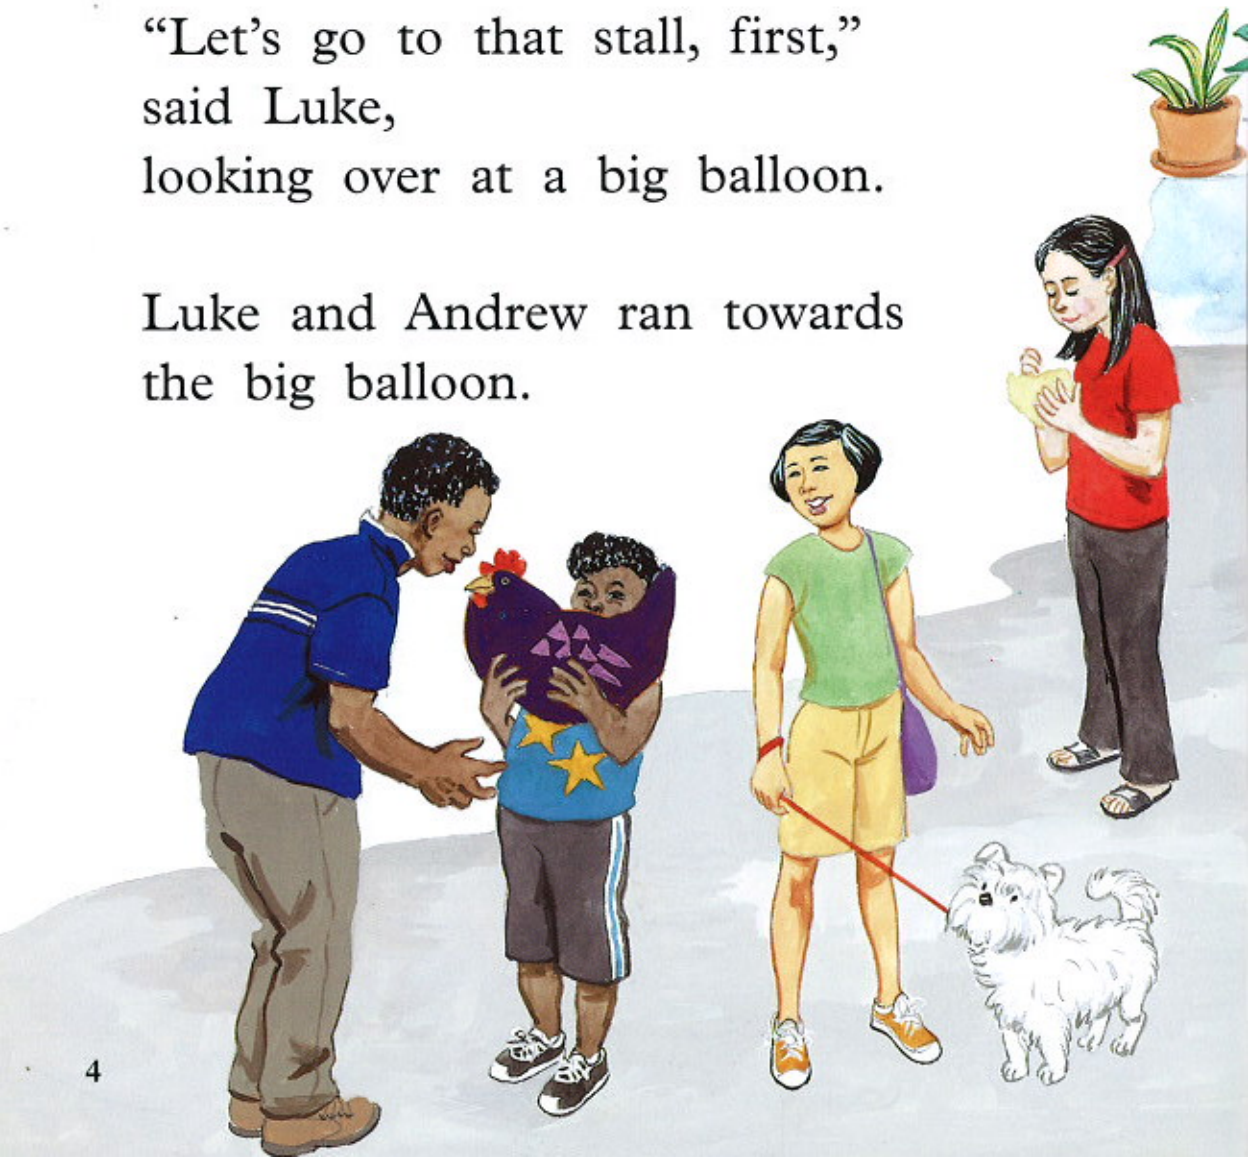

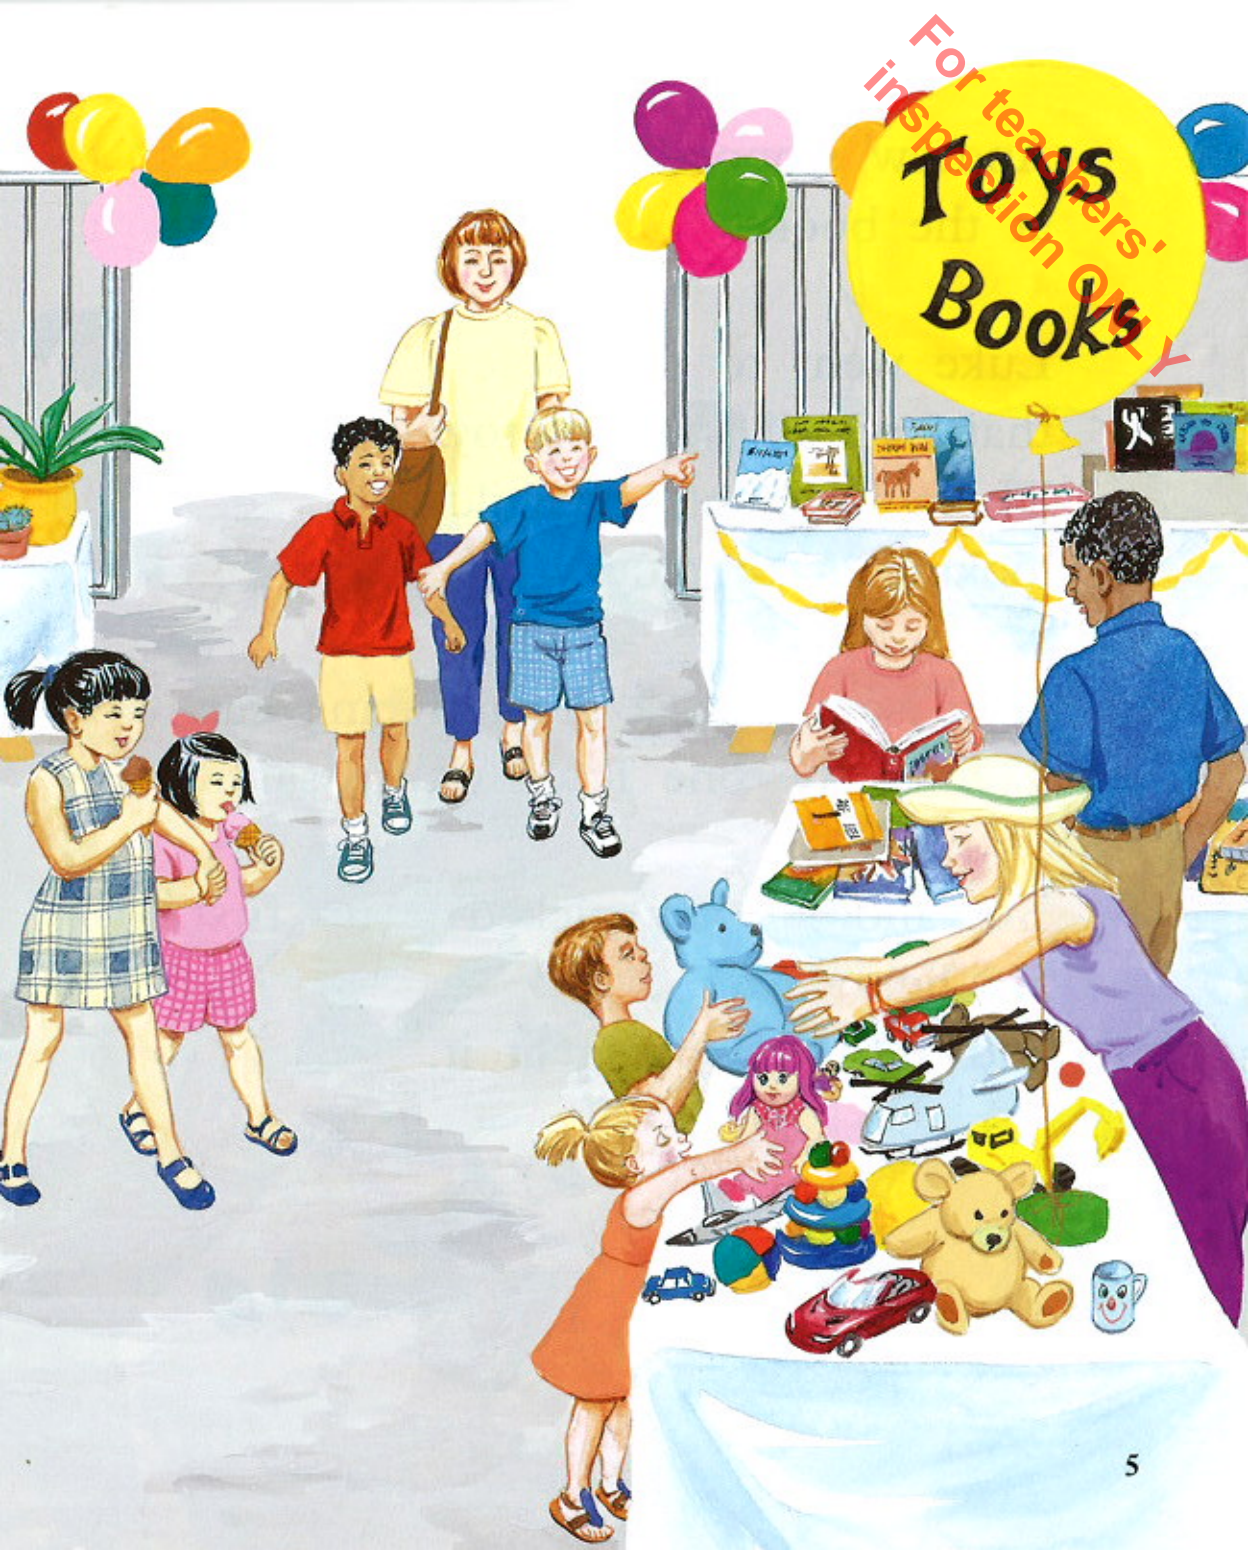

For teachers' inspection ONLY

"You boys can go on ahead of me,"
said Luke's mum,
as they went into the school grounds.

"Let's go to that stall, first,"
said Luke,
looking over at a big balloon.

Luke and Andrew ran towards the big balloon.

For teachers' inspection Only

For teachers' inspection ONLY

Andrew stopped to look at the books.

Luke went to the table
that had all sorts of toys on it.
There were lots of children
looking at the toys.

Luke saw a dark green racing car.
"That's the one I want," he said.

But another boy picked it up first.
He held it up
and started looking at it.