Chapter One

Wizz Bang

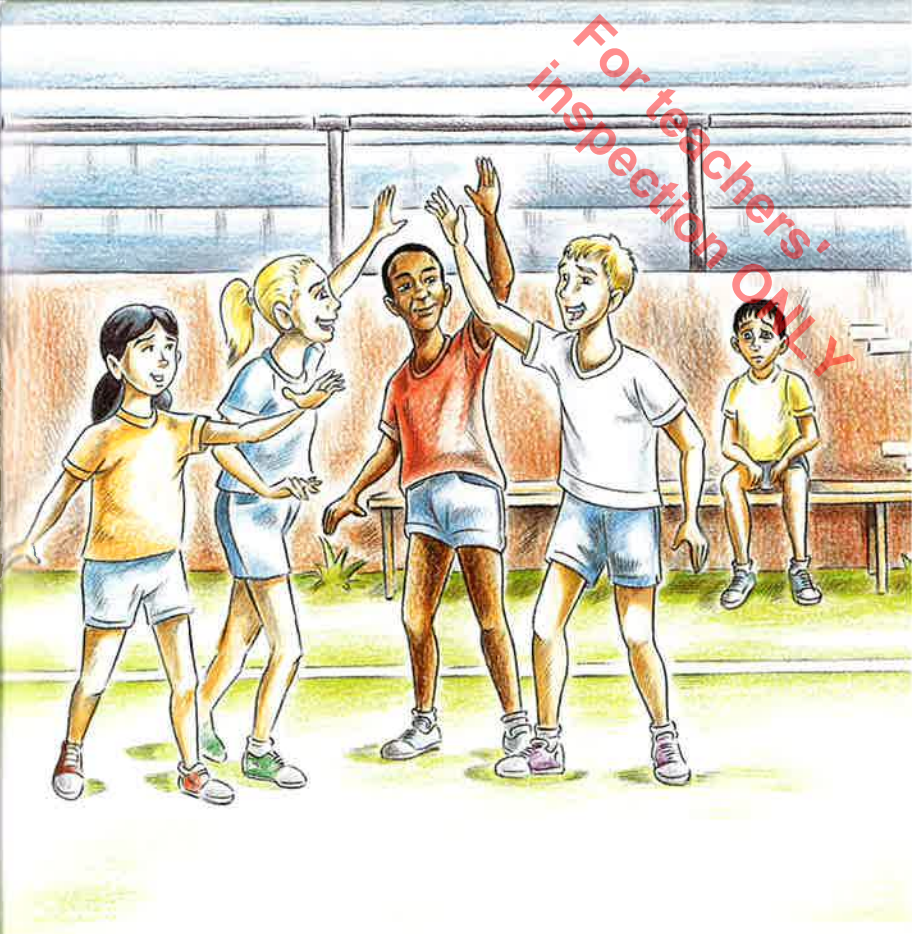

To:	Frank "Wizz Bang" Tippett
From:	Callum Tippett
Subject:	Sport

Hi Pa,

I couldn't believe it when your email came yesterday! I didn't even know you had a computer.

School is okay, except for sport. I know that in every race there has to be someone who comes last; I just wish it wasn't me all the time. Why can't I be good at one sport?

Now I'm a second emergency for the relay in the school sports. And that's only because all the good runners were really sick when the trials were done.

Gotta go, Pa, dinner's ready.

Love, Callum

P.S. Why are you called "Wizz Bang"?

Dear Callum,

I used to tell your father this – as long as you try your best, that's all that matters.

We've had a computer in the retirement village for ages. It's great that we're now hooked up to the Internet, too.

Love, Pa

P.S. I got the nickname "Wizz Bang" because I'm such a 'wizz' at using the computer.

Chapter Two

Harry Watson

To:	Wizz Bang Tippett
From:	Callum Tippett
Subject:	The relay

Pa,

Today I ran in the relay, dropped the baton and made our team lose.

Even worse, Harry Watson and his mates called me Loser! whenever Mr Hendley wasn't around.

I haven't told Mum, she just doesn't understand like you do.

Dear Callum,

At least you had a go, and tried your best. Don't take any notice of this Harry person; he's not worth it.

Love, Pa

Pa,

Just when I thought the torture was over, something else has come up.

Today, the class voted to go ten-pin bowling for the end of term break-up. Harry made a speech about how bowling would be so much fun. It's only because he goes bowling a lot.

I reckon he just wants another excuse to show off in front of everyone.
