One Saturday,
Amy and her mum and dad
went to the zoo.
Amy's friend Rebecca went with them.

"There's the new monkey house,"
said Dad.

"That monkey is climbing very fast," said Rebecca.

"And so is that one," laughed Amy. "Look! It's swinging over to the big tree."

After a while,
Dad bought some ice-creams,
and they all sat under a tree
to eat them.

Suddenly, Amy cried,
"Oh! My ice-cream!
Someone has taken my ice-cream!"

Rebecca looked around.
"That monkey has got it!" she laughed.
"It has got out of the cage."
