Town Mouse and Country Mouse

Retold by Annette Smith Illustrated by Betty Greenhatch

Tale & Play

PM LIBRARY

Once upon a time,
there was a little grey mouse
who lived in a very big house in town.

One morning, he said,
"I need a holiday.
I will go and visit my cousin
in the country."

For Review Only

Off he went.
At last, he reached his cousin's home
in a cornfield.

"Come in. Come in," said Country Mouse.
"I am pleased to see you.
You are just in time
to have supper with me."

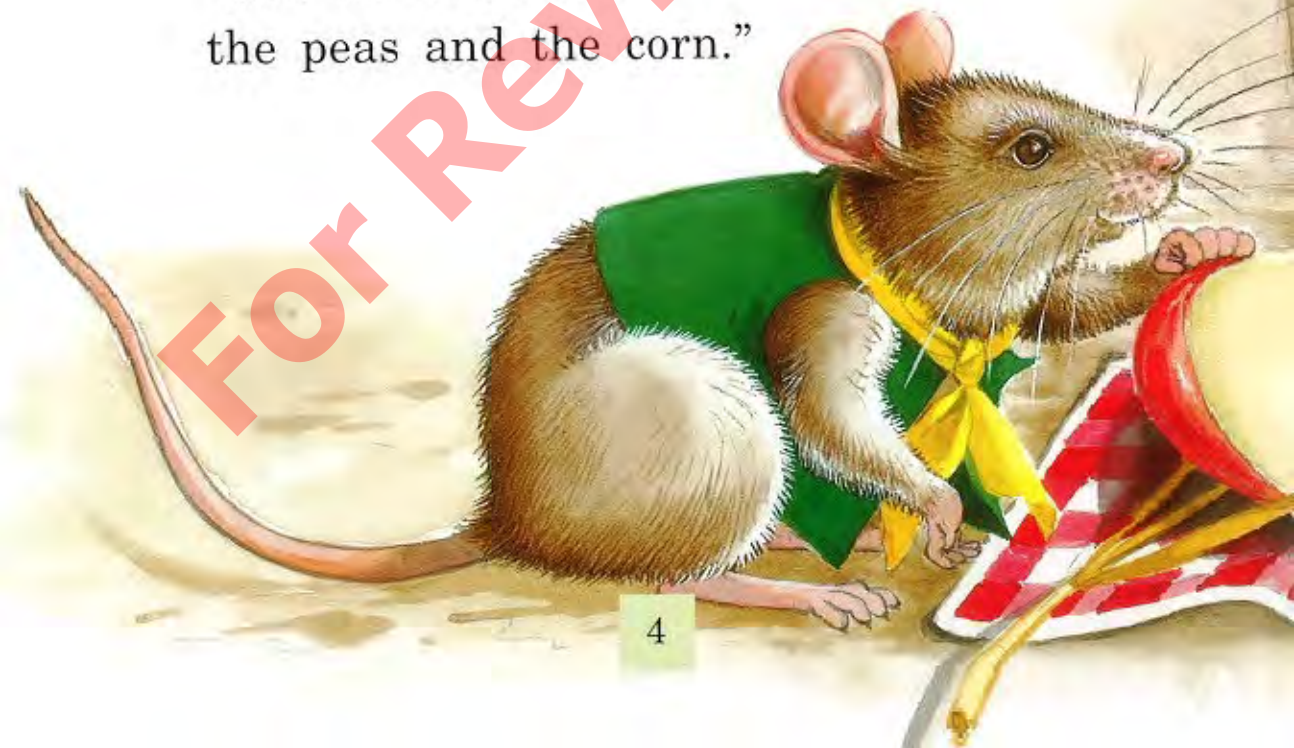

For Review Only

Town Mouse was feeling very hungry
after his long walk.
He looked at the food
that Country Mouse had spread out.

"Is that all you have to eat?"
said Town Mouse.

"You can have this slice of apple,"
said Country Mouse,
"and we can share
the peas and the corn."

For Review Only

For review only

A play

Town Mouse and Country Mouse

People in the play

Reader

Owl

Town Mouse

Cook

Country Mouse

Weasel (mime only)

Cat

For Review Only

Reader

Once upon a time,
there was a little grey mouse
who lived in a very big house in town.

Town Mouse

I need a holiday.
I will go and visit my cousin
in the country.

Reader

At last, he reached his cousin's home
in a cornfield.

Country Mouse

Come in! Come in!
I am so pleased to see you.
You are just in time
to have supper with me.

For Review Only

Town Mouse
I have had a long walk and I am feeling very tired and hungry.

Reader
Town Mouse looked at the food that Country Mouse had spread out.

Town Mouse
That's not very much food.
Is that all you have to eat?

Country Mouse
You can have this slice of apple,
and we can share
the peas and the corn.
When we have finished our supper,
I will make a bed for you.

For Review Only