Two little jackals
lived in a green jungle.

Some deer lived there, too.
Every day they all went down to the river to drink.

But, one day,
a lion came along.
He looked down
at the deer and the jackals.

"I am King of the Jungle!"
he roared.
"I am very hungry.
Come to my cave
so that I can eat you up."

"What can we do?"
cried the deer.
"We don't want Lion
to eat us up!"
