At Christmas, Santa Claus delivers lots of toys to all the boys and girls. Santa's elves make the toys at his workshop. It's a week before Christmas and Jingle, the head elf, is reading letters to Santa...

"Dear Santa, I want a skateboard, a box of toy soldiers, a train set, a football and a box of chocolates for Christmas. From Joey Williams." This little boy wants everything in the workshop for Christmas! Just like this boy, and this boy and this girl and this boy!

Well, children love toys...

But the children are so naughty!
Look at this, Santa. It's Joey
Williams and he's throwing snowballs at some cats!

Oh dear! There's nothing we can do, Jingle. We must make the toys and deliver them on Christmas Eve!

Yes, Santa.

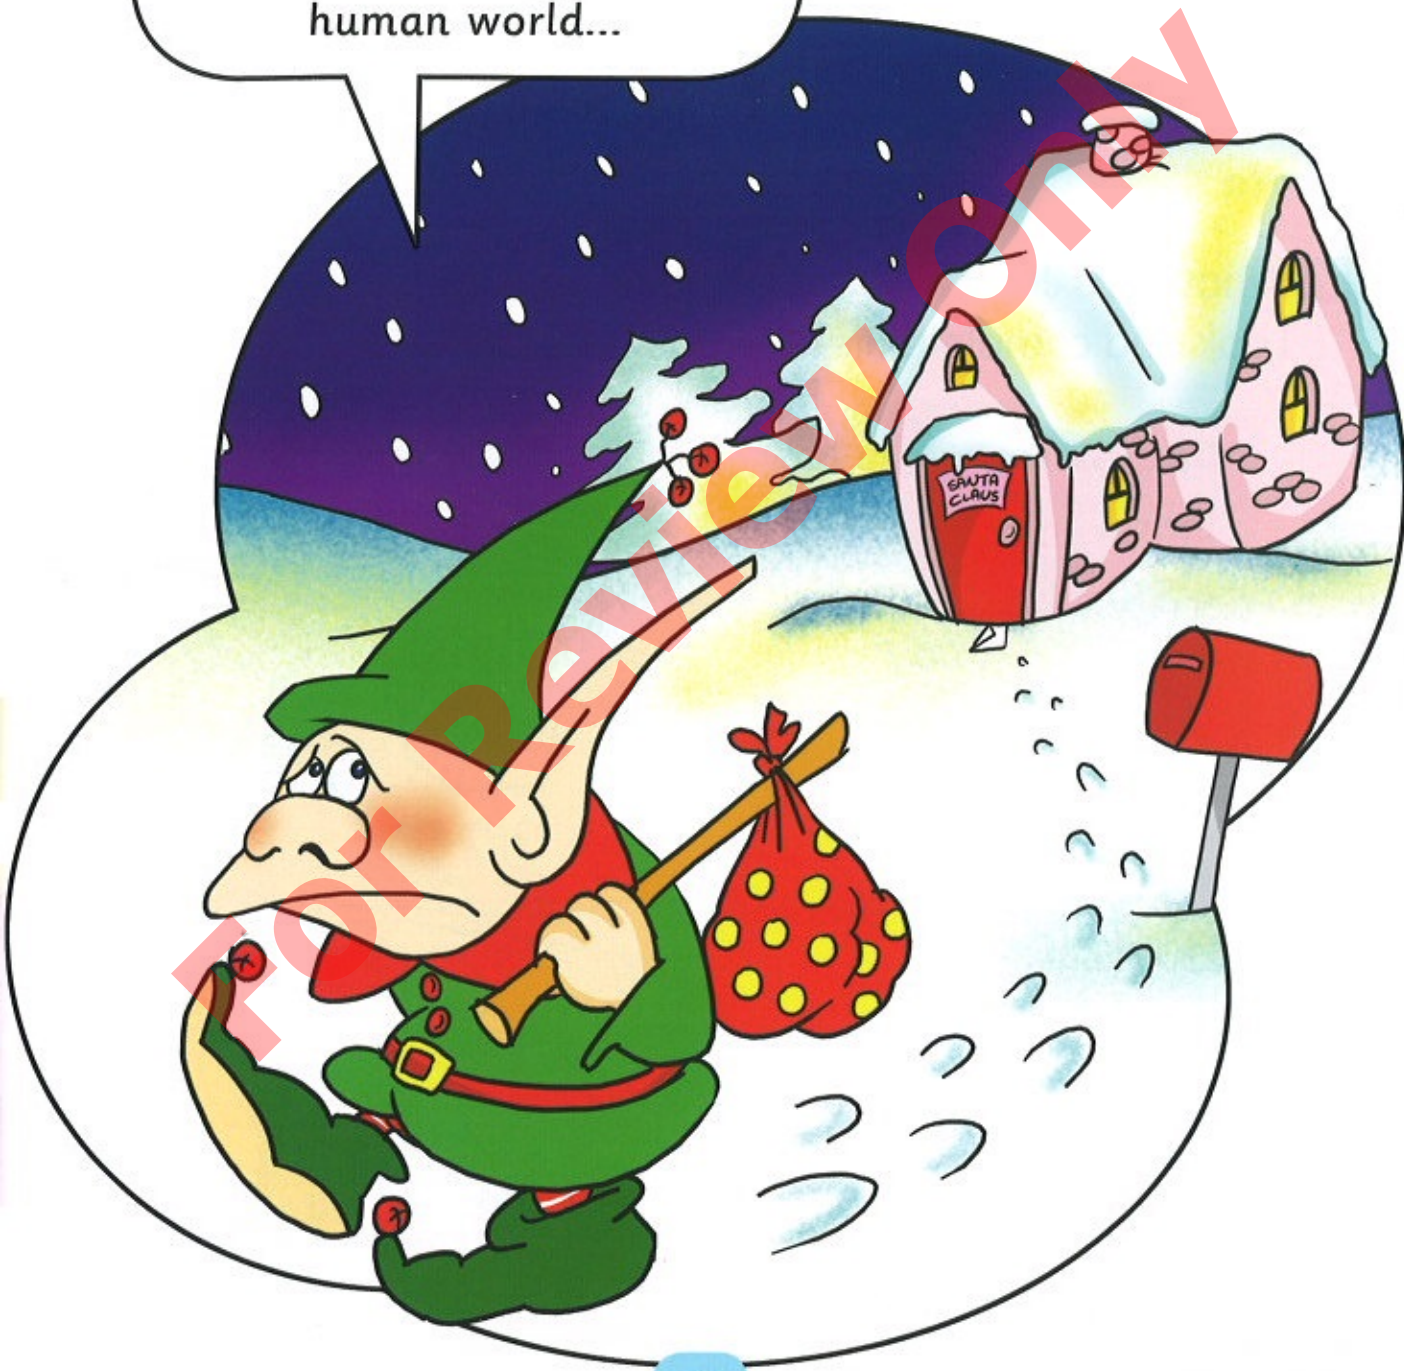

Jingle goes back to the workshop and writes a letter to Santa.

Dear Santa, I'm leaving. I'm sad because children don't understand Christmas. I'm sorry.
Love, Jingle.

That night, Jingle puts his letter under Santa's door...

Goodbye, Santa. Goodbye.
Now, I must find the Candy Cane Door and go to the human world...
