The KITE-EATING TREE and the Piano

Schroeder loved playing his piano. And Lucy loved Schroeder. But she didn't love his piano.

Lucy was angry. 'You never look at me. You never talk to me. I don't like that piano!'

The next day, Schroeder asked, 'Where's my piano?'

'In a tree,' said Lucy.

'What?' shouted Schroeder. He ran off. He wanted to find it.

Schroeder looked up into the tree. Then he saw Charlie Brown.

'My piano's in this tree,' he said.

'Oh no!' said Charlie Brown. 'This is the kite-eating tree. It eats my kites!'

'Help!' shouted Schroeder. 'This horrible tree is eating my piano. Get the rescue team.'

Snoopy came. He was the rescue team!

'Snoopy can help us,' Charlie Brown said to his friend.

'Quick, Snoopy!' said Charlie Brown. 'You can climb the tree.'

'He's not a cat!' said Lucy.
Snoopy climbed the tree.

'Dogs can't climb trees!' said Lucy.
'Hmmm...' thought Snoopy.

But then ... Snoopy fell down.
'Meow,' said Snoopy.

Schroeder was not happy. 'Help me, someone,' he cried.

Charlie Brown looked up into the tree. 'Sorry,' he said. 'This tree's always hungry.'

The next day, Schroeder was very sad.

'My piano, my piano,' he said.

Lucy was angry again. 'You never talk to me,' she said. 'You never look at me.'

'My piano,' said Schroeder.
